

KENNETH L. DANIEL, JR.

Chairman, Topeka Independent Business Association

Ken Daniel is Founder of Midway Wholesale of Topeka, which he started in 1970, just after graduating from the University of Central Oklahoma. He has taken partial retirement, but is also the managing partner of Wohlgemuth & Daniel Investments, LLP.

In Topeka, Ken has been the volunteer leader of the Jaycees, the Active 20/30 Club, the YMCA, the YMCA Foundation, and the Construction Specifications Institute. He is currently the Chairman of the Topeka Independent Business Association. He is also the publisher and editor of a website, www.KsSmallBiz.com, which promotes the interests of small business in Kansas through advocacy, communications, and education.

Ken is a current a member of the Kansas Leadership Council, the National Federation of Independent Business. Statewide, he served four years as a state Jaycee officer and three years as state chairman of the National Federation of Independent Business.

He is a board member of the Better Business Bureau and Fidelity State Bank and serves as an appointee on two state boards—the Kansas Center for Entrepreneurship, and the Kansas Health Policy Authority.